Announcement: in April, Digital. MGIMO Discussion club starts the new working format of experts' collaboration – round tables. The first discussion is dedicating to the topic of the development of AI technology in various sites. We invite participants to talk about new approaches to AI Ethics, the application of AI in certain sectors, and to share views on new opportunities and challenges faced by researchers in their fields of work incl. the problems brought by pandemic. The meeting agenda will include several presentations on scientific areas that have connections to AI Ethics and human-machine interaction. We are deliberately not restricting the discussion to a specific topic and are holding our meeting under the broad theme – "AI in 2021 - Reality and Possibilities". We hope for an interesting, mutually enriching and informal discussion that would be the basis for further research and collaboration.
